

ENVIRONMENTAL AND SAFETY MANAGEMENT POLICY

Ansaldo Nucleare S.p.A. considers the respect for the environment and its employee's health and safety as fundamental principles to adhere to while implementing any work-related activities. In order to achieve such principles, the Ansaldo Nucleare S.p.A. Board is committed to:

- Complying with all relevant regulations and standards related to Environment and Safety
- Implementing an environmental and Safety management System according to ISO 14001: 2004 and BS OHSAS 18001:2007
- Preventing pollution
- Protecting people from any risk
- Guarantee the compliance of "on-site" contractors and subcontractors with the same environmental, quality and safety standards adopted by Ansaldo Nucleare
- Establishing and updating environmental improvement objectives
- Giving importance to the territorial and social aspects in which Company operates
- Constantly improving the Company's performance in environmental care as well as employee safety and health working conditions, with particular reference to the activities detailed in the following:
 1. Development of research applications in protection against the ionizing radiations, and adopting the best technologies and design methods related to the protection of population and workers during the phases of plant erection, construction, operation management and decommissioning.
 2. Encouraging personnel to reduce paper copies by selecting double-sided printing options.
 3. Promotion of sustainable transports.
 4. Monitoring, collecting and disposal of hazardous waste production.
 5. Monitoring the recycling of paper, plastic, glass, organic waste on the Company premises.
 6. Adoption of best-practice methods for accident prevention related to personnel and to the environment, and for reduction of their impact in the event of their occurrence.

In addition to the above, Ansaldo Nucleare S.p.A. is engaged in:

- making available one copy of this document to all personnel working for the Company or on its behalf, and ensure its full comprehension and implementation by all categories,
- making available one copy of this document on internet and business sites,
- sending one copy of this policy document to all external parties upon request.

Genoa, 01/18/2011

L'Amministratore Delegato
(Roberto Adinolfi)

